In his foreword to the Seventh Five Year Plan, the Prime Minister laid emphasis on Human Resource Development in the following words:

"In the final analysis, development is not just about factories, dams and roads. Development is basically about people. The goal is people's material, cultural and spiritual fulfilment. The human factor, the human context, is of supreme value. We must pay much greater attention to these questions in future."

Consistent with these thoughts of the Prime Minister, the Ministry of Human Resource Development undertook co-ordinated efforts for the all round development of education, culture, sports, the youth, women and children.

One of the objectives of the Ministry of Human Resource Development is to bring about co-ordinated and integrated approach in regard to programmes affecting human resource development, namely, programmes of Education, Health, Nutrition, Employment, etc. The National Policy on Education 1986 emphasises the need to further intensify the nation-wide efforts in human resource development with education playing its multi-faceted role. In the implementation of National Policy on Education, the linkages with several related sectors, such as, Health, Nutrition, Employment, etc. have been kept in view. Besides, the Ministry of Human Resource Development has also requested the State Governments to initiate pilot/experimental projects for working out better coordination and integration of programmes in several areas concerning human resource development so that the experience gained and the conclusions arrived at as a result of these experimental projects could form the basis for the development of a coordinated and integrated strategy for human resource development in the 8th Five Year Plan.

In the following five parts of the report, the Ministry presents a comprehensive picture of the activities and achievements of the different Departments:

Part I - Department of Education
Part II - Department of Culture
Part III - Department of Arts
Part IV - Department of Women and Child Development
Part V - Department of Youth Affairs and Sports

The year 1987 witnessed the commencement of implementation of the National Policy on Education 1986. Activities envisaged under the Programme of Action were taken up. Major steps to achieve the objective of universalisation of elementary education were put in full steam-school improvement in terms of building space and environment, equipment and teaching staff. The Non-Formal educational system was put on cost effective, scientific and rationalised footing with more meaningful involvement of voluntary agencies.
In order that the talented children of the rural masses are given equitable opportunities, decisions involving major investments on residential schools (Navodaya Vidyalayas) were taken. A network of these schools is coming up all over the country.

Science education, education on environment, and education technology and vocationalisation have been brought under special focus.

The quality of the teachers in general has been sought to be improved by systematic training programmes. The scales of pay of the University and college teachers have been revised significantly with massive assistance for States.

Adult Education has come to be rationalised in terms of a technology mission for national literacy.

The All India Council of Technical Education has come to be given a statutory base to facilitate orderly growth of technical education.

Cutting across the entire spectrum of education, special emphasis has been laid on reorganisation of the content and process of education, linkage of education with work and employment, open learning and continuing education, people’s participation including through voluntary agencies and education of women, minorities, scheduled castes and tribes as also the handicapped. Values like national integration and techniques like innovation and experimentation have been given all prevailing importance. At all levels, management infrastructure for education has been given special attention too. Efforts have been made also for making the whole education system accountable to the community as also the parents.

The preservation, promotion and enrichment of the cultural traditions of the country have continued to be the vital concern of the Department of Culture. The Department have sought to maintain the vibrancy of these traditions through a network of institutions and supportive schemes. Seven Zonal Cultural Centres undertook activities focussing attention on cultural kinship and dissemination of culture through popular expositions. Conduct of festivals of India abroad and cultural festivals concerning other countries in India as well as cultural exchange programmes with over 70 countries brought the peoples of various countries closer to the people of India.

In the Department of Arts, action was initiated for nucleating the programmes of the Indira Gandhi National Centre for Arts (IGNCA) as per the conceptual plan of the Centre. Important initiatives included enlargement of the Cultural Reference Library and streamlining of the computerised national information system and data bank on arts, humanities and cultural heritage. Another highlight has been drawing up of a plan for compiling Tribal Art Atlas. The IGNCA itself was registered as an autonomous trust with Shri Rajiv Gandhi as the President of the trust and Shri P.V. Narasimha Rao as Chairman of its Executive Committee.

The Department of Women and Child Development undertook coordinated efforts at the development of pre-school children and women, enlisting the support and cooperation of several Departments as also the States and Union Territories. Under the Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS), a package of early childhood services was rendered in terms of supplementary nutrition, immunization, health check-up etc. to children below six years of age and expectant nursing mothers.

The Festival of India in USSR and of USSR in India facilitated reciprocal visits of the youth to the two countries. The National Service Scheme volunteers and Nehru Yuvak Kendras made significant contributions in the area of natural calamities relief. The Society for National Institutes of Physical Education and Sports (SNIPES) was amalgamated with the Sports Authority of India effective from 1st May, 1987. The sports infrastructure in the country has been strengthened by the Third South Asian Federation Games and Second National Games. “Reliance Cup 1987” was the fourth in the series of World Cup in Cricket. This was jointly hosted by India and Pakistan. Signing of Sports Protocols with USSR, GDR, Cuba and Mauritius and unanimous adoption of the revised draft National Policy of Youth in a conference of Ministers of States and Union Territories incharge of Youth Affairs and Sports were the other highlights of the activities of the Department of Youth Affairs and Sports.
an overview

1. The Department of Culture continued to address itself to the preservation, promotion and enrichment of the rich and historic cultural heritage and cultural traditions of the land. The highlights of the year have been the vigorous activities of the Zonal Cultural Centres, which have focussed on cultural kinships and dissemination of culture, as also the Festivals of India abroad in the USSR, Sweden and Mauritius, the Festival in India from USSR and the Japan Month. The following seeks to summarise the major activities of 1987-88 under the aegis of the Department of Culture.

2. The Department of Culture continued to provide financial assistance to dance, drama and theatre ensembles as also to voluntary cultural organisations, and to offer scholarships, fellowships and financial assistance to artistes in different cultural fields. Grants to the extent of about Rs. 45 lakhs were also sanctioned to a number of Buddhist/Tibetan organisations. Two new schemes were given final shape: the scheme for promotion and dissemination of tribal and folk art and culture and the scheme for the preservation and development of cultural heritage of the Himalayas.

3. The seven Zonal Cultural Centres set up during the last two years became fully operational during the year. The Centres organised a number of festivals, workshops, seminars, exhibitions and the like, covering all parts of the country and a generous cross section of the folk and classical art forms. An in depth review was undertaken by the Prime Minister and the major programmes for the year 1988-89 were identified, at a meeting attended in December 1987 by the Chairmen of the Centres, the Culture Ministers of all State/UT Governments and the concerned Ministers of the Government of India. A video of the major events organised by the Centres, with focus on the raison d'etre and methodology of the Centres, was also screened on the occasion.

4. As part of the 40th Anniversary Celebrations of India's Independence, special programmes to celebrate the 118th birth day of Mahatma Gandhi were organised at Gandhi Darshan and Gandhi Smriti Complex from 2nd to 5th October, 1987. A national seminar on 'Gandhi and National Integration' was held at Vigyan Bhavan, New Delhi from 17th to 19th October, 1987 which was inaugurated by Shri R. Venkataraman, President of India. The seminar was attended by a galaxy of scholars, educationists, experts from the judicial field, administrators and distinguished public figures. A statue of Mahatma Gandhi gifted by the Government of the USSR was installed at the Gandhi Darshan Complex, in January, 1988.
5. CENTENARIES AND ANNIVERSARIES: The birth centenaries of Pandit Govind Ballabh Pant and Dr. Sri Krishna Sinha were inaugurated. National Committees were set up under the Chairmanship of the Vice-President of India and Prime Minister respectively to celebrate the centenaries of Dr. S. Radhakrishnan and Maulana Abul Kalam Azad. Steps have been initiated to undertake appropriate programmes to commemorate Raja Sawai Jai Singh-II, Bahadur Shah Zafar and Shri K.M. Munshi.

6. The policy of promoting cultural relations with foreign countries was actively pursued, as an ongoing part of India's cultural diplomacy. Cultural Agreements were signed with Trinidad & Tobago and the Seychelles, bringing the total number of such Cultural Agreements to 78. Besides, 17 Cultural Exchange Programmes (CEPs) were entered into/renewed during the year, bringing the number of CEPs to 54.

7. FESTIVALS: The Festival of India in the USSR, inaugurated jointly by the Prime Minister of India and the General Secretary, Shri Mikhail Gorbachev of the CPSU, USSR on 3rd July, 1987, was an unqualified success and will continue till July 1988. The Indian Manifestation in Sweden was inaugurated by the Minister of Human Resource Development on 21st August, 1987 in Stockholm. These ventures are designed to project the cultural image of India through exhibitions, seminars, films, Indian cuisine, classical and folk music and dance and participation by youth in cultural and friendly overtures and sports events. A spectacular participation by India for a week in September, 1987 in the International Ocean Festival in Mauritius, in which 13 countries participated, was organised. India was accorded pride of place in the celebrations and left an inspiring impact on Mauritius.

8. The Japan Month in India, inaugurated in Delhi by the Vice-President on 13th October, 1987 provided an opportunity to the people of India to have a capsule glimpse of Japanese culture-theatre, music, art, cuisine and the like.

9. The reciprocal Festival of the USSR in India was jointly inaugurated on 21st November, 1987 by the Prime Minister of India and Shri N.I. Rizhkov, Chairman of the Council of Ministers of the USSR. The Festival is dedicated to the 70th anniversary of the Great October Revolution and will go round the country for a year. Great exhibitions of art objects from the Hermitage in Leningrad, the Tretyakov Gallery in Moscow, Russian icons, the Bolshoi Ballet and several music and dance ensembles, have delighted Indian audiences all over the country. An Exhibition on Mahatma Gandhi, Books Exhibition, an Exhibition on Druzhba-Dosti and a Conference of intellectuals would be/are being held. These festivals have evoked an exciting and enthusiastic response from the peoples and Governments of both these countries, which would have a lasting impact on our relations. A number of events were also held in Bombay, Madras and Calcutta.

10. The Archaeological Survey of India continued its activities relating to preservation and conservation of monuments and sites of national importance. The important conservation and repair work done during the year covers, among others, the Taj Mahal, Seesh Mahal in Agra Fort, Jama Masjid in Fatehpur Sikri, Jama Masjid in Delhi, Akbar's Tomb in Sikandra, Bibi-ka-Maqbara at Aurangabad, Ajanta and Ellora Caves, Elephanta Caves in Bombay, Khajuraho Temple, Gol Gumbaz at Bijapur, Hazarduari Palace at Murshidabad, Golconda Fort, Jagannath temple at Puri, Sun Temple at Konark, Chittorgarh Fort and Qutab Minar at Delhi.

5. Six colour reproductions of important works of art from the Gallery's collection were brought out.

ART ACQUISITIONS

3.91 The meeting of the Art Purchase Committee was held in March, 1987 and, 274, works of art were purchased and added to the Gallery's collection on the recommendation of the committee.

Nehru Memorial Museum and Library

3.92 The Nehru Memorial Museum and Library maintains: (i) a personalia museum which brings into focus the life of Jawaharlal Nehru and the Indian struggle for freedom; (ii) a library of printed material, books, periodicals, newspapers and photographs having a bearing on the history of modern India; (iii) a repository of unpublished records of institutions and private papers of eminent Indians, which provide original material for historical research; (iv) a reprography unit for microfilming old documents, records and newspapers; (v) an oral history division for supplementing written records with the recollections of men and women who have taken part in public affairs; and (vi) a centre for research.

3.93 The Museum, which illustrates the life and times of Jawaharlal Nehru, through visual materials continued to be the focus of interest for large numbers of visitors from India and abroad. About seven lakh visitors came to the museum, which averages a daily attendance of 3176 on working days, and 3879 on Sundays and holidays. It also continued to figure prominently in the itinerary of dignitaries visiting the capital from India and abroad. The exhibitions, which are part of the permanent display in the Museum, also continued to excite the deep interest of the visitors. In connection with the 40th anniversary of Independence, one exhibition was especially organised on "India, the Decades of Development 1947-87." The important themes dealt with in this exhibition were: The birth of a new nation, the consolidation of nationhood, the framing of the Indian Constitution, the functioning of social democracy, the development of Indian economy, the growth of science and technology in India and the renaissance of art and culture.

3.94 The Library, which has a special focus on modern Indian history and social sciences, continued to grow in holdings as well as in quality of its services. 5,661 books were added to the stock up to the end of December, 1987, which now stands at 1,11,883. The titles in the Nehruana collection have gone up to 1,078, the Gandhiana stood at 1,653 and the Indirana has 273 titles. The books acquired under these three sections are in English, Hindi and in various other Indian and foreign languages. The number of newspaper files and dissertations (on microfilms) rose to 4,635 and 820 respectively. The photo section of the Library raised its collection of photographs to 73,792.

3.95 Collections in the Archives continued to record further additions. Some of these were:
paper of S. Satyamurti, Devadas Gandhi; Henry Austin, Raj Bahadur and Pt. Shiv Sankar, among others. Valuable additions were also made to the existing collections of papers of Bhulabhai Desai, Apa B. Pant, the Nehru family and C. Rajagopalachari. Papers of Pt. Shri Ram Sharma, Pr. Din Dayalu Sharma, the Tagore family and Cosimbazar Estate, are also likely to be received by March, 1988. The Oral History Division also maintained a good record of work. Two new transcripts were finalised and 108 sessions of interviews were recorded. The total number of persons interviewed rose to 958 and the sessions recorded to 3,151.

3.96 The Reproduction Unit augmented the Library's microfilm collections for research and reference and prepared about 2,52,501 frames of negative film of newspapers, 18,300 metres of positive film, 45,668 microfiche frames, 3,484 photographs, 14,914 electrostatic prints from microfilms and 71,400 xerox copies for record and for supply to scholars.

3.97 The Preservation Unit continued to render useful service in respect of repair and rehabilitation of valuable documents.

3.98 Research being conducted in the Organisation in history and social sciences made substantial progress. Besides, the Nehru Museum arranged 3 lectures and 14 seminars/symposia on the themes relevant to the understanding and transformation of Indian society.

3.99 A publication 'The Indian National Congress-A Reconstruction, Vol.I 1885-1918' was brought out. 4 publications, 'Jawaharlal Nehru Correspondence: A Catalogue'; 'Jawaharlal Nehru: A Bibliography'; 'Socialization, Education and Women'; and 'Jawaharlal Nehru on Science and Society' are under print. Work on the publication of 'Selected Works on Motilal Nehru-Volume V' is nearing completion. 11 occasional papers contributed by the Museum Fellows were circulated to Universities and research institutions. These papers are a part of the ongoing research programme of the Nehru Museum. Besides, 6 special lectures to mark the 23rd death anniversary of Jawaharlal Nehru and 40th anniversary of India's Independence were organised, including one in connection with 'Quami Ekta' week. A panel discussion on 'The Social Roots of Sati' was also organised.

3.100 Under the general theme 'Perspectives on Indian Development 1947-87', 2 special lectures were organised.

National Council of Science Museums, Calcutta

3.101 The National Council of Science Museums (NCSM) is primarily engaged in the task of popularising science and technology among the students in particular and the masses in genral, through a wide range of programmes and activities.

3.102 The National Council of Science Museums administers and manages the following Science Museums/Centres, countrywide:
2. Visvesvaraya Industrial & Technological Museum, Bangalore.
3. Nehru Science Centre, Bombay.
4. National Science Centre, Delhi.
5. District Science Centre, Purulia.
6. Shrilakshmi Science Centre, Patna.
7. District Science Centre, Gulbarga.
8. District Science Centre, Dharampur.
9. District Science Centre, Tirunelveli.
10. Raman Science Centre, Nagpur.
11. Regional Science Centre, Bhubaneswar.

OBJECTIVES

3.103 The objectives of NCSM are:
   a) To popularise science and technology;
   b) To supplement science education given in schools and colleges.
   c) To organise training programmes;
   d) To render assistance to Universities, technical institutions, museum schools and colleges of other bodies;
   e) To design, develop and fabricate science museum exhibits, demonstration equipment and scientific teaching aids;
   f) To collect, restore, and preserve important historical objects; and
   g) To conduct research in the history of science and technology with special reference to India.

3.104 NCSM concentrated on planning new exhibits for exhibition in the permanent galleries of the Museums/Centres; commissioning new galleries in different Science Museums and Centres; and establishment of new Science Centres. Construction work for Regional Science Centres at Bhubaneswar, Lucknow, Guwahati and the main building of the National Science Centre in Delhi are progressing rapidly. Science Parks and Mobile Science Exhibition Units of Raman Science Centre in Nagpur and Regional Science Centre in Bhubaneswar were inaugurated. They are attracting a large number of visitors every day. Planning for establishment of three District Science Centres at Bhopal, Goa and Calicut and fabrication work for three permanent galleries “Sun” at RSC, Bhubaneswar, “Earth” at RSC, Guwahati and “Fluidics” at RSC, Lucknow has continued.

CENTRAL RESEARCH & TRAINING LABORATORY, CALCUTTA

3.105 The Central Research & Training Laboratory is coming up in a big way at Salt Lake City, Calcutta. Construction work for this impressive 10-storied building with 45,000 sq.ft. floor area in the first phase, with a provision for substantial expansion on an area of 2.5 acres, involving an expenditure of Rs. 2 crores is in full swing. It will provide facilities for research and prototype exhibit development, evolution of new museum techniques and training of science museum personnel from all over India and abroad.

BIRLA INDUSTRIAL & TECHNOLOGICAL MUSEUM (BITM), Calcutta

3.106 (i) BITM, Calcutta organised a “Nature Camp” at Chandipur in Orissa, in October 1987. Many school children participated in this interesting outdoor programme. The Zoological Survey of India collaborated in this.
(ii) A “Nature Awareness Programme” for 20 primary grade school children was held at BITM.
(iii) BITM conducted the State Level Science Seminar with the participation of students from all the districts of West Bengal.
(iv) BITM introduced the new and spectacular demonstration programme on Chemistry - “Chemistry is Fun”. An important aspect of this programme is that it is designed not only for students but for the public too.
(v) BITM conducted 200 Science Demonstration Programmes, both in-house and outside the Museum. About 20,000 students participated.
(vi) 13 Creative Abilities Centre or Hobby Centre programmes were held in the Museum and 40 students worked on various projects.
(vii) 19 Sky Observation Programmes were held, with about 1100 people.
(viii) 24 Popular Lectures were arranged, attended by about 2000 people.
(ix) 3 Teachers' Training Programmes were held where 70 teachers received training and 126 kits were developed.
(x) 6 Amateur Radio Programmes were held. 30 trainees were trained in a total of 74 classes.

NEHRU SCIENCE CENTRE (NSC), BOMBAY

3.107 (i) Nehru Science Centre, Bombay celebrated its second anniversary on November 11, 1987, with the inauguration of the new mobile science exhibition unit, “Perception”.
(ii) “International Management Film Festival” - a two-day programme was held in collaboration with a local management institute.
(iii) “Computer-aided Construction Projects” - a one-day workshop was held in collaboration with the Institute of Engineers. About 100 professionals in the field of construction took part.
(iv) “Jamboree-On-The-Air” for Scouts and Guides of Bombay had the participation of 80 Scouts and Guides. 8 stations within India and 3 outside the country were contacted.
(v) “Joining Hands”, a work-oriented exhibition for spastic children, highlighting their special needs and ways of meeting them, was organised at NSC, Bombay on November 14-15, 1987. Industrial Design Centre of IIT, Bombay and Spastics Society of India collaborated.
(vi) The mobile science exhibition units of NSC held exhibitions at 59 sites in over 123 exhibition days. A total distance of 7000 km. was covered. Over 2,00,000 people attended the exhibitions and film shows.
(vii) 22 Science Demonstration Lectures were arranged, for the benefit of over 2000 students.
(viii) 8 Creative Ability Centre programmes were held in which about 500 students participated. A total of 126 projects was completed.
(ix) 25 Sky Observation Programmes were held.
(x) 2 Computer Training Programmes were held. 45 children took part and developed 2 softwares.
(xi) Over 100 amateur radio operators were trained in 28 sessions. They were on air for about 23 hours during which they contacted 47 stations.
(xii) 350 school children from 173 schools took part in 21 Science Quiz Contests.

VISVESVARAYA INDUSTRIAL & TECHNOLOGICAL MUSEUM (VITM), BANGALORE

3.108 (i) The mobile science exhibition units of VITM attracted about 3,50,000 visitors to their exhibitions and film shows at 43 sites in over 101 exhibition days. The total distance covered was 7,176 kms.
(ii) 12 Science Demonstration Programmes were held, attended by about 900 students.
(iii) 8 Popular Lectures were held, attended by 610 people.
(iv) 2 Teachers' Training Programme were held, in which 20 teachers were trained and 6 kits developed.
(v) 6 Computer Training Programmes were held. The number of students trained was 63.
(vi) 15 Science Quiz Contests were organised in which 30 students participated.
(vii) 12 Hobby Centre Programmes were arranged in which about 100 students took part, to complete 20 projects.

NATIONAL SCIENCE CENTRE, DELHI.

3.109 (i) The giant “Energy Ball” exhibit at the Energy Pavilion at Pragati Maidan Complex was fully set and opened for visitors’ interaction. In this exhibit, balls move all over 3,000 sq.ft. of space having a 650’ path. In a fascinating way, they demonstrate transformation of energy from muscle to potential, from potential to kinetic, from kinetic to potential and from kinetic to electricity. Transfer of momentum, centrifugal force, conservation of angular momentum and even Kepler’s Law on planetary motion were also demonstrated. The exhibit is possibly the largest of its kind ever placed in a Science Centre.

(ii) The Mobile Science Exhibitions of the Centre were held at 56 sites in over 88 days. About 1,00,000 people attended the exhibitions.

(iii) 4 Popular Lectures were arranged, for about 400 people.

(iv) 2 Teachers’ Training Programmes were held in which 20 teachers took part. 10 teaching aids were developed.

(v) One Computer Training Programme was held in which 31 school students were trained.

(vi) One Science Quiz Contest was held in which 22 students participated.

SHRIKRISHNA SCIENCE CENTRE, PATNA

3.110 Shrikrishna Science Centre, Patna continued its activities. The new gallery “Our Senses”, Children’s Corner and Life Science Laboratory, completed last year, have become quite an attraction for the visitors of all age groups, especially, children. Over 100,000 people visited the Centre.

Among the important activities of the Centre the organising of the State level Science Seminar, Eastern India Science Camp and conducting of various regular educational programmes for school children and application oriented programmes for adults including housewives.

DISTRICT SCIENCE CENTRES

3.111 The District Science Centres at Purulia, Gulbarga, Dharampur and Tirunelveli continued their activities for school students, tribal people and rural communities. Large numbers of people visited these Centres and participated in various programmes conducted by them. DSC, Purulia opened the new Popular Science Gallery this year. DSC, Gulbarga also opened its new Popular Science Gallery, DSC, Tirunelveli added a permanent auditorium and also infrastructure for temporary exhibition. Apart from regular activities, there was a plethora of extra-mural programmes, ranging from “Know the Insects” and “Bakery Demonstration” to “Computer Awareness”.

EXTENSION ACTIVITIES

3.112 (i) Museo-buses or the Mobile Science Exhibition units travelled across the length and breadth of the country covering nearly 300 sites. They travelled remote interior areas of West Bengal, Bihar, Orissa, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Delhi, Dadra and Nagar Haveli. About 10,00,000 people visited the exhibitions, which toured over 16,000 km. Besides, over 2,00,000 attended the scientific film shows held at different rural sites.

(ii) Science Demonstration Lectures on a regular basis are held every year in VITM, Bangalore, NSC, Bombay and BTTM, Calcutta. Other Science Centres have also started following the same process. The unique mode or presentation brings the text book sciences alive and their effect dramatically supplements formal School Education.

(iii) The Museum/Centres helped to organise Science Fairs and Camps in a massive way in Guwahati and Bangalore. the Southern India Science Fair was organised by VITM Bangalore in February 1987. 174 schools took part in it, with two students, one teacher and three exhibits from each school. The Eastern India Science Camp was held in Guwahati during February 1987. 265 participants from 139 schools and 14 Science Clubs with 200 models assembled there, to mark their creative abilities. Exposure-oriented training camps on aeromodelling, life sciences and electronics were organised for 46 observers coming from all over Eastern India.

(iv) BITM, Calcutta continued their fascinating science Quiz Contest, “Quest”, through the Doordarshan National Programme, in which BITM answers the queries of millions of TV viewers across the country every month.

NATIONAL SCIENCE SEMINAR-1987

3.113 The National Council of Science Museums organised the National Science Seminar -
1987 at the FICCI auditorium in New Delhi. The topic was “Pollute & Perish; Conserve & Flourish”. Students from all the States and Union Territories participated in this Seminar.

INDIA: A FESTIVAL OF SCIENCE

3.114 The exhibition on 5,000 years of Indian Science & Technology finished in August, 1987, its 2 year-long tour through six cities of the USA. NCSM also took part in a big way, in the Festival of India in the USSR. NCSM fabricated a large section of the S&T exhibition, organised by the Department of Science & Technology, Government of India. The exhibition was inaugurated at Leningrad and travelled through Moscow and Tashkent.

25 YEARS OF SPACE PHOTOGRAPHY

3.115 NCSM brought this unique exhibition from the USA during November 1986 of 150 planetary photographs, all taken by hitech equipment from unmanned spacecrafts and synthesized by Computers on Earth. Round-the-year shows at NCSM Units at Calcutta, Tirunelveli, Bangalore, Bombay, Delhi, Bhubaneswar and Patna were held. Over half a million came to see it. On October 24, 1987, the Union Minister of State for Education and Culture, formally received the exhibition on behalf of India from the American authorities, for further shows by NCSM.

INDO-US WORKSHOPS ON SCIENCE MUSEUMS

3.116 NCSM conceptualised and established Asia’s largest outdoor Children’s Science Park in 1979 at NSC, Bombay. Considering the positive impact of Science Parks in children’s nonformal education, Science Centres of the USA have taken up a plan to establish such Parks; and, to tap the NCSM expertise in this area, a Workshop was held at St. Louis. This is a signal recognition of NCSM’s achievements in this behalf. Another workshop was held in Boston in September, 1987, on “Interactive Video Technology in Science Centre”.

National Research Laboratory for Conservation of Cultural Property, Lucknow

3.117 The National Research Laboratory for Conservation of Cultural Property (NRLC), a sub-ordinate office under the Department of Culture, continued to carry out research work in the field of conservation of cultural property for developing new methods of conservation and to improve upon the existing methods with regard to Indian conditions. It also provides assistance to various museums, departments of archaeology and libraries for the preservation of their collections besides training persons working in the field of conservation and preservation of cultural property.

3.118 The Laboratory made all-round progress in various areas of research, conservation, training, library and documentation. The Laboratory continued to receive assistance from UNDP and UNESCO for its programmes. International Council of Culture and Research of Monuments (ICOM) also collaborated in organising an Asian Regional Seminar at Lucknow.

RESEARCH PROJECTS

3.119 (a) Study of iron metallurgy in ancient India and technical studies of some artefacts from early Iron Age sites, Kausambi, Mahurjhari, Arni, Hulaskhera and Takalghat were completed. Work on the study of technology of tools from another site, Manjhi Bihar (600 B.C.) has been started.

(b) Conservation of bronze and brass images in India: A number of bronze collections from Bihar and West Bengal were examined. Efforts were made to get the severely deteriorated bronzes brought to the NRLC for study and conservation. A short-term project entitled “Controlling the Corrosion rate in brass with inhibitors” has been undertaken.

(c) Studies on the Taj Mahal: Various combinations of lime based mortars and plasters and indigenous additives like dal, gur, bel, alsi, etc. were tested to find out the best combination that can be used as a material for crack filling at the Taj. In order to assess the role of pollutants from the Mathura Refinery, monitoring of suspended particulate matter (SPM) was carried out.

(d) Evaluation of commercial washing powders for stone cleaning: The project was started to assess the damage caused to stone by commercial washing powders.

(e) Effect of acid rain on spotted sandstone - This project was started to study the effect of acid rain phenomenon on Mathura sandstone. With growing levels of air pollution, this project assumes great importance.

(f) Study of Microflora of Ajanta wall paintings and their control measures - In continuation of the previous studies under the above project, 20 fungal species were identified, which were isolated from wall paintings, aeroflora, soil/dust of caves.

(g) Study of foxing marks on paper - SEM studies were done at the National Botanical Research institute, Lucknow for the brown foxed spots collected from 1931, 1952 and 1954 books. All the spots showed fungal spores.

(h) Control of furniture carpet beetle (Sp. Anthrenus)-Para-di-chlorobenzene and DDVP were tested for the control of carpet beetle. Insecticidal paper was prepared for preventing silver-fish.

(i) Discolouration of Taj Mahal Marble-Detection of organic coating - The preservation of the Taj Mahal has been a matter of great concern for quite some time, mainly because of yellowish appearance all over the white marble, particularly in the niches and arches. A study is being carried out to ascertain the presence of organic coating that might have been applied for preservation of the monument in the past. Detailed results are documented in the Laboratory’s report "Studies on Materials of Taj Mahal". The work is also published as a research paper entitled "Discolouration of Taj Mahal Marble-A case study".

(j) Studies on the characterisation and identification of natural resins occurring in the cultural objects with particular reference to Ajanta wall paintings - Natural resins have been used by artists as protective coatings, adhesives and paint media since times immemorial. Though natural resin is good as artist’s or restorer’s material, it has a tendency to yellow and become brittle with age, whence arises the need for its characterisation and identification so that optimum conservation of cultural objects could be ensured. The present study was undertaken in this light.

(k) Study of the Indian Exudate plant gums in their artistic applications - Gums have been important in art as a principal media for ‘water colours’, miniatures, wall paintings and manuscript illumination. Analysis of gums will shed light on the technology of the painting which is also helpful in selecting proper methods of conservation. The Laboratory has initiated work on this.

(l) Study of the Fundamental properties of Birch Bark and Preservation Technique - In continuation of the study of evaluation of birch bark, further investigations are being carried out by covering different technical aspects.

(m) Study of the methods of preservation of Palm-Leaf-Taking into consideration the nature and extent of deterioration of palm-leaf manuscripts, this project has been undertaken to carry out extensive evaluation of palm-leaf.

CONSERVATION

3.120 (a) Conservation of Hukuru Mosque at Male (Maldives) -NRLC was actively engaged in the conservation of the Hukuru Mosque at Male. Various types of studies were conducted on the coral stones and the building material of the Mosque. Samples were tested for determination of the nature of stone. The tests included water absorption by capillarity, water absorption by total immersion, rate of water evaporation and absorption of moisture from the atmosphere. The porosity of the samples was determined by hydrostatic weighing, paraffin method and mercury weighing.

(b) Restoration of Mural paintings from Sinon Monastery in Sikkim - The Mural Paintings of the Sinon Monastery in Sikkim were in a poor condition and were transferred to the NRLC for treatment. Restoration work on these paintings has been completed.

(c) Conservation and restoration of museum objects - NRLC is being regularly requested by museums and other institutions for the conservation and restoration of their objects. The following would be of interest.
(i) Shree Guru Granth Sahib consisting of 776 pages received from Burhanpur Gurdwara, Madhya Pradesh.

(ii) Pata chitra received from Sarabhai Foundation, Ahmedabad.

(iii) 250 sq. wall paintings at Shiv-duala, Chamba, H.P.

(iv) Iron object belonging to the National Institute of Oceanography, Goa.

(v) 25 iron objects belonging to Banaras Hindu University.

(vi) 70 copper objects belonging to Banaras Hindu University.

(d) Preparation of Conservation reports for other museums and departments was done in respect of:

1. Garwhal Rifles Regiment Centre, Lansdowne.
4. Department of Archaeology, Punjab.
5. Raj Bhawan, Ooty.
7. Mural paintings at Orcha.
9. Cultural heritage of Bikaner and conservation at junagarh Fort.
10. Wall paintings in Ahichatragarh, Nagaur.

SEMINARS

3.121.1 A three-day seminar on conservation of cultural property was organised in September, 1987 by the NR LC at Lucknow in collaboration with the Indian Association for the Study of Conservation of Cultural Property, New Delhi.

3.121.2 A six-day Asian Regional Seminar on "Conservation of Metals in Humid Climate" was organised in December, 1987 at the NR LC. Experts from Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Nepal, Pakistan and Thailand, besides conservation experts from several museums and archaeological departments in India, participated.

3.121.3 A workshop on bio-deterioration of museum material was held in the USA in May/June, 1987. This was coordinated by the Director, NR LC and a technical paper on "Effect of Fungal growth on Ajanta Wall Paintings" was presented by an expert of NR LC.

TRAINING AND WORKSHOPS

3.122 NR LC organised the following training/workshops:

(i) Six-month conservation course from September 1987 to February, 1988 in the conservation of archaeological materials.

(iii) Six-day workshop in June, 1987 on the care of art objects in collaboration with the INTACH Conservation Centre, Lucknow for Army personnel.

EQUIPMENT ACQUIRED

3.123 A chromatograph obtained recently through UNDP has been installed. This equipment is especially useful for the analysis of anions which are generally encountered in all types of art objects. Standardisation of the equipment is under way.

LIBRARY & DOCUMENTATION

3.124 The important activities were as under:

(i) Number of volumes acquisitioned and accessioned-412;

(ii) 1056 issues of periodicals received and accessioned;

(iii) 300 books classified and catalogued; and

(iv) Compilation and printing of special bibliographies on (a) wood, & (b) metals.
PHOTO DOCUMENTATION

3.125 NRLC undertook the following photographic documentation:-
(i) Black and white photographs of art objects - 1600 exposures;
(ii) Colour transparencies - 750; and
(iii) Preparation of 3 exhibitions regarding the work of the NRLC for the (1) Crafts Museum, New NRLC for treatment. Restoration work on these paintings has been completed.
(c) Conservation and restoration of museum objects - NRLC is being regularly requested by museums and other institutions for the conservation and restoration of their objects.
The following would be of interest:-
(i) Shree Guru Granth Sahib Delhi. (2) Department of Archaeology and Museum, Karnataka and (3) Asian Regional Seminar at Lucknow.

PUBLICATIONS

3.126 About 27 papers/books were published by the NRLC.
Anthropological Survey of India, Calcutta

4.1 The Anthropological Survey of India is the premier organisation of anthropological research under the Department of Culture, committed to the study of the people of India, the biological and cultural evolution of man with reference to India, the study of scheduled tribes and other weaker sections, and the conducting of surveys in the social, cultural and physical anthropology throughout the country. It is also concerned with the conservation of environment, welfare of women and children, physical fitness and nutritional status of populations and preservation of cultural heritage. As anthropological adviser to the Government of India, it works in collaboration with University departments of anthropology, tribal research institutes and other organisations interested in anthropology and allied subjects. It also takes steps to disseminate its research findings through its publications and organisation of exhibitions.

PEOPLE OF INDIA AND OTHER PROJECTS

4.2 The main thrust of research activities of the Survey centered around the National Project on the 'People of India' initiated in October, 1985. This project seeks to generate up-to-date information on all communities (approximately 5,229) of India, and to highlight the linkages that bring them together. Most of the scientific and technical members of the Survey are engaged on this project by way of collecting field data, analysis of the collected material, writing of reports, abstracts and filling up of the computer formats, preparing maps, photographs and the like. Till November, 1987 field work for 3,521 communities has been completed and writing of reports and abstracts for 1,853 and 258 communities has been completed, besides filling up of computer formats for 2,581 communities. This project is also being implemented with active involvement of the scholars from various University departments, tribal research institutes and other organisations. A computerized list of the communities, both national and regional, has been prepared with the help of the National Informatics Centre (NIC). As a part of the building up of a computerized information system in collaboration with the NIC, training of the officers of the ANSI was arranged.

PROGRESS OF TASK FORCES

4.3 The three Task Forces constituted to expedite long-pending projects of the Survey made satisfactory progress. They are expected to achieve their targets by the end of the current financial year (1987-88). The data report on the All India Anthropometric Survey (the South Zone) will be released shortly. The data of All India Anthropometric Survey (the North Zone) are under computer analysis, and it is planned to bring out shortly a volume for each State containing basic data. Preparation of preliminary Tables on the All India Bio-Anthropological Survey is almost complete and arrangement has been made to computerise the tabulated material for further analysis and to bring out a volume on preliminary tables. The basic data of Culture Trait Survey are under computer analysis and will be published shortly.

INTERACTIONS WITH VARIOUS UNIVERSITIES/DEPARTMENTS/ORGANISATIONS ETC.

4.4 Collaborative research activities of the Survey continued to expand through close interaction with various Universities/Departments/Organisations. The Survey participated in the preparation for holding the joint Indo-Soviet Exhibition called, “Druzhba-Dosti” its first venture abroad, as part of the festival of India in USSR. An International Seminar on Visual Anthropology was organised in December, 1987 at Jodhpur in collaboration with the Indian National Trust for Art and Culture Heritage (INTACH). At this Seminar, which was held for the first time in India, 66 scholars and film makers participated including 22 from outside the country, some of whom were distinguished visual anthropologists. The ANSI brought out on this occasion interesting publicity material on its work and the first report on the status of visual anthropology in India in collaboration with the INTACH, and acquired a number of Ethnographic films. An Ethnographic Film Festival which will be the first of its kind is being planned for next year. A plan of action for making ethnographic films is also being drawn up.

4.5 The Survey also collaborated with a number of institutions in planning seminars and discussions on anthropology. For instance, it collaborated with the Indian Social Science Congress to organise the anthropology session at Mysore; with the Department of Anthropology, Lucknow University to organise a seminar on tribal situation in UP, scheduled to be held next year; with the Department of Folklore, Gauhati University a seminar on ‘Ramakatha’ in tribal and folk traditions with special reference to North East India; and with the Centre for study of Administration of Relief in organising an International seminar on ‘Afro-Asian Studies on Special System and Food Crisis’, to be held next year. The Survey is also collaborating with the Nehru Memorial Museum and Library in organising a national conference on tribal society and tribal development; with the Indian Academy of Social Sciences in organising a national seminar on the evolution of man and society in India and with the Ananthakrishna Iyer Centre for Anthropological studies in celebrating the centenary of the distinguished anthropologist, the late Ananthakrishna Iyer.

4.6 The research project on Area Study: North East India, in collaboration with various University departments of Anthropology of North East India, was continued. The collaborative programme with the Bureau of Police Research and Development (Ministry of Home Affairs) with regard to the project ‘Portrait Building System’ resulted in the preparation of ‘Identity Kit’ on the Indian population.

COMPUTERIZATION

4.7 Steps were initiated for the introduction of a computerized information system for the Survey. A Feasibility Report was prepared by the West Bengal State Unit of the National Informatic Centre.

CENTRAL AND ZONAL ANTHROPOLOGICAL MUSEUMS

4.8 The Central and Zonal Anthropological Museums of the Survey continued their collection, documentation, preservation and display of ethnographic specimens. A large number of photographs were generated under the "People of India" project. An exhibition was held at Port Blair in connection with the programme ‘Island on the March’ organised by the Andaman and Nicobar Administration. On the occasion of ‘Dusserah festival’ celebrated by the Government of Karnataka at Mysore, an exhibition on ‘Evolution of Man’ was organised.
CULTURAL EXCHANGE

4.9 In accordance with the Indo-South Korean Cultural Exchange Programme, a Superintending Anthropologist of the Survey was deputed to South Korea to undertake a study tour to various Institutes conducting research/training in anthropology and allied disciplines.

PUBLICATION PROGRAMME

4.10 Members of the Survey published 24 scientific papers. The Publication Wing of the Survey brought out three issues each of the Newsletter and Human Science, three memoirs and two books, besides continuing the publication of folders, booklets and the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1985-86.

Rashtriya Manav Sangrahalaya, Bhopal

4.11 Dedicated to the depiction of the story of humankind in time and space, the Rashtriya Manav Sangrahalaya (RMS) Bhopal, an autonomous organisation under the Department of Culture, is being developed around general anthropology as its central discipline, with the following three major areas of interest: (i) Human Evolution and Human Variations (ii) Human Society in the prehistoric times; and (iii) Patterns of Culture. The presentation in the museum will be both in open air and indoor galleries.

MASTER PLAN

4.12 The RMS has taken up construction of a temporary exhibition-cum-administration building at the site at an estimated cost of Rs. 17 lacs.

4.13 The work of electrification by laying underground cables and provision of path-lights in the area of open-air exhibition of ‘Tribal Habitat in India’ undertaken this year is nearing completion. A network of water distribution pipe-lines has also been laid in the site. The RMS has done extensive plantation in its land spread over 200 acres. While this plantation is being nursed, the area of open-air exhibition is being filled with such plants as are found in the habitats of various tribes.

OPEN-AIR EXHIBITION ‘TRIBAL HABITAT IN INDIA’

4.14 The open-air exhibition ‘Tribal Habitat in India’ was opened to the public on January 27, 1988. The exhibition has added a Naga village-gate, a Maria shrine, ritual complexes of Rathwa and Chodhuri Tribes and three houses of potters during the current year. An indoor exhibition area on a tribal pattern of housing has been provided near the location of the open-air exhibition for typological display of material culture.

INDOOR EXHIBITION

4.15 The RMS organised two exhibitions in its indoor exhibition facility. The first exhibition, prepared and opened in the first quarter of the year, presented the central theme of the RMS, providing visitors with a window into the future presentation. The second exhibition ‘Manav ki Kahani’ was inaugurated on 15th August, 1987 by the Chief Minister, Government of Madhya Pradesh. This exhibition has three components: human evolution, evolution of culture and patterns of culture.

COLLECTION AND DOCUMENTATION

4.16 The RMS organised collection of museum specimens, both through field work by its own staff and through assignment to non-government agencies under phased programme of ‘Operation Salvage’. The professional teams of the RMS did field-work in the tribal and folk cultures of Andaman & Nicobar Islands, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Orissa & Uttar Pradesh as a result of which over 600 specimens were added to the reserve collection. Besides, about 500 objects of material culture to equip the housetypes and ritual complex in the ‘Tribal Habitat Exhibition’ were also collected. The work of collection was accompanied by photo and graphic documentation.

CONSERVATION

4.17 The RMS was visited by a team of experts from the National Research Laboratory for Conservation of Cultural Property and INTACH, Lucknow.
DEVELOPMENT OF REFERENCE LIBRARY AND INFORMATION CENTRE

4.18 The RMS is developing a specialized reference Library and Information Centre to facilitate research and education. To the collection of this facility, 371 new books, 360 issues of foreign journals and 223 issues of Indian professional journals were added.

LECTURES & SEMINARS

4.19 To commemorate the 40th Anniversary of India’s Independence, the RMS organised a series of National lectures. The first of such lectures was on the topic ‘Culture Identities and Alternative Future’.

FOREIGN VISIT

4.20 The Director, RMS accompanied by the designated architect of the RMS visited museums of importance in Mexico, the USA, Romania and Denmark to study museum housing and related problems specific to open-air display, towards finalisation of the RMS’s Master Plan.
National Archives of India, New Delhi

5.1 The National Archives of India (NAI), the repository of non-current records of permanent value of the Government of India, continued its usual activities, relating to accession of public records and private papers of national interest from India and abroad; preservation, administration and management of records and making them available for research; conducting training courses in various archival disciplines through its school of Archival Studies, and rendering technical advice and financial grants/assistance to various State/Union Territory Archives for their development and to Voluntary Organisations and institutions engaged in the preservation of manuscripts of historical importance. 6.8 121 Research scholars from as many as 21 countries, sponsored by Universities, research institutions and the Government of India under the Cultural Exchange Programme did extended research work in LTWA.

6.9 Regular courses on Indo-Tibetan Buddhist culture are held for ten months a year. The LTWA sent Lama scholars as visiting lecturers to the Universities of Seattle and Michigan, U.S.A., University of Vienna, Austria and the National University of Australia.

6.10 300 students have successfully passed the Tibetan Language course in which text books and recorded cassettes developed by LTWA are used.

6.11 An Art school offering a seven-year training programme covering all aspects of traditional Thangka Painting, and a Craft school offering a three-year practical training in the traditional skills of woodcarving have been established. These schools are major centres of Tibetan Fine Arts in India recognised by the Government of India.

6.12 A four-storied extension building fully funded by the Government of India and a three-storied staff quarters funded from the Library's own funds have been completed.

6.13 The Library receives regular grants from the Government of India for its maintenance and other projects.

Financial Assistance to Buddhist/Tibetan Organisations

6.14 The Department of culture is administering a scheme of financial assistance for the development of Buddhist/Tibetan organisations, including monasteries, engaged in the propagation and scientific development of Buddhist/Tibetan culture, tradition and research in related fields. Grants are on an ad-hoc and non-recurring basis given upto a maximum of Rs. 2.00 lakhs for any single organisation. Expenditure on each of the approved projects is to be shared in the ratio of 3:1 between the Central Government and the concerned State Government organisation. 49 institutions have been selected this year for grant of financial assistance.
CHAPTER 7
libraries

National Library, Calcutta

7.1 The National Library is the biggest Library in the country, having a collection of about 1.89 million volumes housed mainly at Belvedere, Calcutta. It is one of the recipient libraries under the provisions of the Delivery of Books Act, 1954 (amended 1956), and is the foremost repository of United Nations documents. It also acts as a referral centre for research scholars.

7.2 The prime source of acquisition of current books, newspapers and journals, published in India is under the Delivery of Books Act. English books and journals published abroad are acquired through purchase. The Library has a book exchange programme with 195 institutions in 80 countries. This programme finds an excellent source for the acquisition of foreign publications not readily obtainable through normal trade channels.

7.3 Providing bibliographical and reference services to readers and research scholars from India and abroad is a standard activity of the Library. The Library has published bibliographies and catalogues of its holdings with a view to disseminating information. The Library plans and arranges exhibitions of books and illustrations to mark national and international events. Mention may be made of the exhibitions organised in August, 1987 on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of India's Independence entitled "The Day we became free", and "Intellectual Property-Hazards and safeguards" in November, 1987 on the occasion of the International Convention of Judges and Jurists in Calcutta.

7.4 The Library preserves the contents of rare and out-of-print publications through microfilming. The Library also prepares microfilm/photo/xerox copies of research materials available in the collection of the Library and supplies them to the scholars at cost.

7.5 The Library renders reader services through its Reading Rooms and Lending Section. The Library has on its roll 7,230 readers as "Reading Room Members". The Lending Section deals with 33,800 registered borrowers, local and outstation. It also functions as the National Centre for International Loan. During the year 1,95,000 publications were issued to the readers and 44,380 books were lent to the borrowers.

7.6 The Library received and installed a micro-computer (HP-3000) as a step towards automation in rendering various library services.
7.7 On the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the Calcutta Public Library in March, 1987 the National Library organised a National Seminar on “National and Public Library Development”. An exhibition on the “National and Public Libraries of the world” was also arranged on the occasion.

7.8 The following facts about the important holdings of the Library are worthy of note:

| Total No. of books in the Library | 18,80,700 |
| Total No. of books in Indian languages | 4,10,600 |
| Total No. of manuscripts | 3,703 |
| Total No. of maps | 76,968 |
| Total No. of current periodical titles | 19,782 |
| Total No. of bound volumes of periodicals | 1,08,500 |
| Total No. of publications received as gift and exchange | 4,27,390 |
| Total No. of publications received under the D.B. Act | 6,86,321 |
| Total No. of Indian Official Publications | 4,53,050 |
| Total No. of microfilms/microfiche cards | 2500/87,500 |
| Books in the rare collection | About 5000 |

Central Reference Library, Calcutta

7.9 The Central Reference Library, a subordinate office of the Department of Culture, is located in the National Library premises and is mainly responsible for the implementation of the two schemes viz. (i) compilation, printing and publication of Indian National Bibliography (both in Roman and in respective Indian language scripts) a bibliography of current Indian publications published in Indian languages (including English) recognised by the Constitution; and (ii) Compilation and publication of Index Indiana (in Roman script), an Index to articles appearing in current Indian periodicals in major Indian languages.

INDIAN NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

7.10 The most important achievements is the revival of the publication of monthly issues of the Indian National Bibliography (INB) in Roman script which was discontinued from 1978 due to delay in composing and printing by the Government of India Presses. Composing is being done by the library through an electronically devised photocomposing Machine imported from the U.S.A. The monthly issues up to August 1985 have already been published. Monthly issues up to December 1985 are expected to be published by March 1988. Annual Volumes for 1980 and 1981 are expected to be published by 1988. Preparation of the manuscripts for 1982 and 1984 Annual Volumes are in progress. In order to augment the development in Hindi and other regional languages, the language parts of the Indian National Bibliography are also being published separately in respective language scripts. Accordingly, Hindi language bibliography for 1983-84 (Combined) and 1985 Annual Volumes, Malayalm for 1986 (Annual), Tamil for 1984 (Annual) and Urdu 1981-82 (Cumulated) language bibliographies have been published during the year. Language bibliographies for Hindi 1986 and Urdu 1983-85 are expected to be published during this year. Steps have been taken to print other language bibliographies also in this year.

INDEX INDIANA

7.11 The first Annual Volume of Index Indiana was published covering six languages viz. Bengali, Hindi, Gujarati, Marathi, Malayalam and Tamil. The remaining languages will be covered and the publication will be brought up-to-date as early as possible. Annual Volume 1982 of the Index Indiana has been published. Annual Volume 1983 is ready for press.

PROGRESSIVE USE OF HINDI FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSE OF THE UNION GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

7.12 An official Language Implementation Committee has been set up for implementation of the Government orders relating to progressive use of Hindi in the Central Reference Library. In all, four meetings were held during the year. One Hindi Assistant has been appointed specifically for Hindi work, 80% of employees (other than Group D staff) have passed either Pragya Examination or acquired proficiency in Hindi
Central Secretariat Library, New Delhi

7.13 The Central Secretariat Library, including the Hindi and Regional Languages Wing at Bahawalpur House and a Branch library at Ramakrishnapuram, New Delhi have been engaged in providing research and reference services to government agencies and departments, members of the library, research scholars and others. A small collection of material for lending in English, Hindi and other Indian languages is maintained for members only.

7.14 The Library added about 8,005 books in Hindi, English and other regional languages to its main collection of over seven lakh volumes. In addition 26,930 items of Central and State government publications including Gazettes, legal documents, proceedings of legislative bodies and the like were received by the library. Official publications received during the year from International Agencies and foreign governments exceeded 1,255. The library has also received 1,320 U.S. Government publications in microfiche form.

7.15 The Library enrolled 4,300 members during the year 1987 and lent out 1,81,202 volumes on a variety of subjects. Over 621 volumes were supplied on Inter-library loan basis to different local libraries and similarly 256 books were borrowed to meet the demands of the members. The Library provided 61,307 Photo copies of the documents to research scholars, individuals and institutions.

7.16 Reading Halls of the Central Secretariat Library Complex cater to the needs of members as well as non-member readers, by providing them popular Dailies in Hindi, English and other Indian languages published locally and elsewhere in India. The total number of such Dailies regularly subscribed stands at 90. The total number of periodicals received by the library in English, Hindi and Regional languages through subscription, gift and exchange is 1,081.

7.17 Under the Library's extension activities programme, the library organised:-

(i) A lecture under 'National Integration Lecture Series' by Ms. Amrita Pritam in March 1987.

7.18 The Library's Microfilming Unit has prepared 104 microfilms of 39 rare documents for research and reference purposes. In the computer section, two small sample data bases were created. To enable extensive use of the computer, training programme for the staff is going on. Three fresh graduates from library schools were given 3 months' practical training during the year. The work of data collection for the Hindi Bibliography Project is in progress.

Central Library, Bombay

7.19 Under the Delivery of Books Act, the Central Government have declared four libraries as the recipient libraries for the receipt of a copy of the books/newspapers published in the country. The Central Library, Bombay is a recipient Library for this purpose. The Central Government releases grants to the library for maintenance of the delivery of Books Act Section of the library, provision for the year being Rs. 5 lakhs.

Delhi Public Library, Delhi

7.20 The Delhi Public Library established in 1951 by the Government of India with financial and technical assistance from the UNESCO has been providing excellent free library service to the citizens of Delhi. Starting as a small Unitary Library in Old Delhi, it has since developed into a Metropolitan Public Library System consisting of a Central Library, a Zonal Library at Sarojini Nagar, a Rural Zonal Library at Bawana, 27 Branches and Sub-Banches, 31 R.C. Libraries, a Braille Department for the Blind and a net-work of Mobile Service Stations serving 66 areas and 15 Deposit Stations spread all over the Union Territory of Delhi. One Mobile Van designated as 'Rural Mobile Library on wheels' started on 6th November, 1986 serves the residents of 14 villages in the Union Territory of Delhi.

7.21 The Library has a net collection of 8,15,098 volumes and 87,457 registered borrowers as on 31st March, 1987. It issued 22,81,935 volumes during the year 1986-87.
Raja Rammohun Roy Library Foundation, Calcutta

7.22 The Foundation, is an autonomous organisation engaged in the promotion of library services in the country, which has continued to serve the public libraries in cooperation with the state Union Territory Governments.

7.23 In addition to its continuing Schemes, Foundation has also adopted three new schemes of assistance during the year: (a) Assistance to Libraries Below District Level for Construction/Extension of Library Building; (b) Assistance to Children’s Libraries or Children’s Sections of General Public Libraries; and (c) Assistance to State/Central Libraries and District Libraries to acquire TV-cum-VCR Sets for Educational Purposes.

7.24 Keeping in view the need for strengthening the administrative and supervisory machinery for the implementation of the Foundation’s plan programmes, a conference of the conveners of the State Library Committees was organised in February, 1987 at New Delhi. The main theme of the conference was “Implementation of the Foundation’s Programme of Assistance problems and Remedies”.

7.25 The Foundation also assisted about 5000 libraries at different levels all over the country.

7.26 The Foundation brings out a quarterly newsletter to give publicity and disseminate library services in different parts of the country.

7.27 The Foundation has also undertaken a project for the extension of its office building at Salt Lake, Calcutta. The Eastern Zonal Office is functioning from the headquarters. In addition to its Zonal Office at New Delhi, the Foundation also set up two more Zonal Offices at Bombay and Madras.

Indian Council of World Affairs Library, New Delhi

7.28 The Indian Council of World Affairs (ICWA) Library, New Delhi, provides research facilities on International and area studies. It has the richest collection of books, documents, periodicals and press clippings on international relations. It has also a good collection of microfilms and maps. It is a depository Library of the United Nations Library system. The Central Government provides ad-hoc grant to the ICWA for the maintenance of its Library.

Khuda Bakhsh Oriental Public Library, Patna

7.29 Khuda Bakhsh Oriental Public Library’s Collections have emerged as one of the richest treasure house of manuscripts in the country, with over 16,000 manuscripts, 90,000 old and rare printed books and over 2,000 paintings of the Mughal, Rajput, Iranian and Turkish schools. Declared by an Act of Parliament as an institution of national importance, the Government of India took over its control in 1969. It is now managed by a Board, headed by the Governor of Bihar.

PRESERVATION OF KNOWLEDGE

7.30 The Library is engaged in preservation and dissemination of knowledge, acquisition of valuable national heritage in the form of manuscripts in particular and books in general. With a well-equipped bindery, the manuscripts and rare books are being given a new and lasting life through chemical treatment, lamination, necessary repairs and binding. The Library is extending its cooperation to other collections as well in respect of preservation.

DISSEMINATION OF KNOWLEDGE & RESEARCH AND PUBLICATION

7.31 Towards disseminating knowledge on a wider scale, efforts are on for making the best use of the precious material available in the Library. The Library has formulated a multi-dimensional programme to provide the scholars all possible help in their research pursuits. 21 volumes of descriptive catalogues of the manuscripts have been published; experts are busy at the task of completing 10 more volumes to be released in the next few years; union catalogues (handlists) of Arabic and Persian manuscripts on a few subjects, i.e. Tibb (Ionian Medicine), Tasppwuf (Sufism) and Urdu Literature (on all subjects) have been completed and published through three South Asian Regional Seminars on the respective subjects; critical edition and publication of rare manuscripts of the Library have been taken up and so far, 32 such manuscripts and monographs have been published. They are being introduced to the scholarly world too, through the Quarterly Research Journal of which 44 issues have been brought out so far. The entire periodical collection of the Library, old and new, is being indexed to provide micro-information to the scholars. Annual/extension lectures, talks and symposia are being held. These lectures are being published regularly.

7.32 Reference facilities are being widely provided to scholars round the world by supplying the required information through postal and reprographic services in the form of transcribed copies, photostats and microfilms.

7.33 To accelerate the pace of research, one National, two Visiting, three Senior and seven Junior Fellowships have been created on the pattern of ICHR/UGC to work on the available store of knowledge. Kashmir University, Gulbarga University, Jamia Millia Islamia and the Magadh University have recognised the Library as their Research Centre.

7.34 A vast amount of material on the Freedom Movement is still lying buried in the old periodicals which may add new dimensions to the history of Movement. The Library is collating all such material to be published in thirty volumes. A rare speech of Motilal Nehru has since been published.

7.35 The Library is working on a scheme to translate the outstanding pieces of literature of Hindi, Urdu and other national languages into one another. Award-winning books have been taken up first.

ACADEMIC SEMINARS

7.36 The Khuda Bakhsh Library has entered into a programme of intensive research through holding special seminars in specialised fields in which India, Pakistan and Bangladesh might be equally interested. The subjects are Tibb, Quranics, Sufism, Perso-Arabic Scientific Literature, Indian History and Urdu Literature. Hamdard National Foundation, New Delhi and Aligarh Muslim University are collaborating in the venture.

7.37 The Library’s scheme of South Asian Regional Seminar is aimed at creating an academic infrastructure for South Asia, now fast evolving into a successful South Asian Regional Cooperation. Of the three Seminars held so far, one each was devoted to Tibb, Tasawwuf and Urdu manuscripts which helped in the preparation of union catalogues of manuscripts on the respective subjects scattered over South Asian countries. In addition, these Seminars have been playing a vital role in strengthening the SARC ties at the academic level.

RECOGNITION AWARD

7.38 The Library has also instituted an award to scholars for outstanding research contribution in the Library’s special fields of Arabic/Persian/Urdu/Islamic Studies/Tibb/South Asian Studies/West Asian Studies/Central Asian Studies/Comparative Religion/Sufism/Composite Culture of India.

ACQUISITION

7.39 The Library continued acquisition of manuscripts through purchase, exchange and gift. During the year the Library has been able to add 250 manuscripts to its holdings along with some 5,000 printed books and about 50 microfilms/photostats.

PRESERVATION OF EMINENTS

7.40 A separate collection of audio and video-tapes is being built up to record and preserve the eminents of the composite culture of India. About 100 audio and 62 video-tapes of eminents have been prepared.

Thanjavur Maharaja Serfoji’s Saraswati Mahal Library, Thanjavur

7.41 The Thanjavur Maharaja Serfoji’s Saraswati Mahal Library, Thanjavur is an institution of acknowledged repute. It contains very rare and valuable collections of manuscripts on manifold aspects of art, culture and literature. The main aim and object of this Library is to publish the rare and old manuscripts of matchless value, so that scholars, in particular, may benefit therefrom in their researches, as also, of course, the reading public.
7.42 The Library has a wide collection of manuscripts and books from the times of the Maratha Kings. The Library, which was under the management of the Maratha royal family till 1918, became a Registered Society in 1986, under the chairmanship of the Minister of Education, Tamilnadu.

7.43 The Library has more than 42,000 manuscripts in Sanskrit, Marathi, Telugu and Tamil, as well as a few in Persian. Among these, the largest collection is in Sanskrit, numbering 37,000 manuscripts, both in palm-leaves and paper, in different scripts such as Grantha, Nandinagari and Nagari scripts. The Library is in possession also of 4,500 old books in European languages printed in England during the period of Maharaja Serfoji (before 1832). The manuscripts in the Library are preserved using modern preservation methods. Microfilming and transcription of manuscripts are also done. The manuscripts are edited by expert Guest Editors and published. So far, 260 books in Sanskrit, Marathi, Telugu and Tamil languages have been published.

Rampur Raza Library, Rampur

7.44 To provide better management and adequate financial support, the Government of India took over the Library on 1st July, 1975 under the Rampur Raza Library Act, 1975. The Library was also declared as an institution of national importance. While it is funded by the Department of Culture, it receives a modest Annual grant of Rs. 48,000 from the U.P. Government. The Library is managed by a highpowered Board, with the Governor of Uttar Pradesh as the Chairman. There is a provision for a Vice-Chairman and 12 other members who represent the erstwhile ruling family of Rampur, distinguished historians/scholars in Arabic, Persian and Urdu literature, besides officials of the Central and State Governments concerned with the affairs of the Library.

7.45 The Library has a collection of about 50,000 printed in Arabic, Persian, Sanskrit, Pashto, Turkish, Urdu and Hindi books, 15,000 manuscripts besides a large number of miniature paintings, 'Bhoj Patras' and the like.

CHAPTER 9

promotion and dissemination of culture

New Schemes

9.1 Schemes for providing financial assistance for (i) Promotion and dissemination of Tribal and Folk Art and Culture and (ii) Preservation and development of Cultural Heritage of the Himalayas have been formulated in the Seventh Five Year Plan. While the scheme of financial assistance for promotion and dissemination of Tribal and Folk Art and Culture will be implemented by the Department of Culture, the scheme for the Cultural Heritage of the Himalayas will be implemented by Rashtriya Manav Sangrahalaya in respect of long term programmes and by the Department of Culture itself for others. These two schemes and associated literature including application formats have been circulated to all the State Governments/Union Territories and the U.G.C. advising them to obtain the applications from eligible organisations/institutions and forward them to the Department of Culture with their recommendations.

9.2 However, in view of the economy measures initiated by the Government consequent on the drought conditions in the country, it has been decided to defer the implementation of these schemes up to the end of the current financial year 1987-88.

Centre for Cultural Resources & Training

9.3 The Centre for Cultural Resources and Training (CCRT) New Delhi is an autonomous body, fully financed by the Government of India and is mainly responsible for propagation of culture among college and school students.

9.4 The activities of the Centre comprise training programmes, evaluation and feedback, collection of cultural resources, production of educational material and implementation of the Cultural Talent Search Scholarship Scheme.

9.5 The Centre organised six orientation courses. The Centre has been training school teachers from all parts of the country in rural and urban areas. It proposes to organise seminars for principals and District Education Officers, to coincide with the various teacher training programmes, as well as train about 10,000 students under Extension Services.

9.6 The Centre has designed a cultural kit for primary schools and proposes to prepare approximately 400 cultural kits.

9.7 Three hundred children have been selected for the Cultural Talent Search Scholarship.
In addition to its training programme, production of materials for the setting up of school museums and holding of youth camps for conservation has been undertaken by the Centre.

Building Grants to Cultural Organisations

The object of the Scheme is to give grants to Voluntary Cultural Organisations for construction of buildings and purchase of equipment. The scheme covers Organisations (other than religious institution, public libraries, museums, municipalities, schools, Universities and institutions fully financed by the Central/State Governments) exclusively working in the field of dance, drama, music, fine arts, Indology and literature. Assistance under the scheme has been approved for 32 organisations.

Financial Assistance to Dance Drama and Theatre Ensembles

Yet another scheme provides for financial assistance to well-established institutions doing good work in the field of performing arts to help them to become national or regional resource centres in their respective fields. 42 institutions received assistance under this Scheme.

The objective of a third Scheme is to provide non recurring, adhoc financial assistance to professional groups and individuals for projects and specified performing arts such as, drama groups, theatre groups, music ensembles, orchestra units, children's theatre, puppet theatre and individual artistes. About 100 groups and individuals have already received such assistance.

Grants to Cultural Organisations

Financial assistance is being given to institutions of all-India character, engaged in the development of cultural activities, to meet part of their expenditure on maintenance and developmental activities. The institutions assisted include the Ramakrishna Mission Institute of Culture (Calcutta), Institute of Historical Studies (Calcutta), Numismatic Society (Varanasi), Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (Bombay), and Institute of Traditional Culture (Madras).

9.21 A Review meeting was held in January, 1988 under the Chairmanship of the Prime Minister. This was attended by the Chairman of the Centres, the Culture Ministers of all States/UTs. concerned, Central Ministers and Officials, and the Zonal Centre Directors. The programmes and directions for the year 1988-89 were approved. For the year 1988-89, seven specific interzonal events were also identified: (1) the Magh Mela, Allahabad (January’88), (2) Adivasi festival, Belgaum (Feb.-March’88), (3) Statehood of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla (April’88), (4) Onam festival, Alleppy (Sept.’88), (5) Goa Fete, Panaji (Oct.’88), (6) Sikkim festival, Gangtok (Oct.88) and (7) The 25th Anniversary of the founding of Nagaland, Kohima (December’88). An exhibition on the rationale of these Centres was held at Pragati Maidan, New Delhi for nearly 3 weeks from December 20, 1987 accompanied by performances by folk groups from all the Centres. This proved to be an immense draw and served to highlight the facts that nearly 300 events, with more than 16,000 artistes participating, were held by the ZCCs all over the country, to an audience of over a million people. The activities of the ZCCs served vast members of the people away from the formal confines of auditoria and theatres and enabled a healthy and happy exchange in the field of performing and plastic arts between peoples and artistes of various states.

Central Board of Film Certification

9.22 Films can be publicly exhibited in India only after they have been certified by the Central Board of Film Certification (CBFC). Set up under the Cinematograph Act, 1952, the Board consists of non-official members and a part-time Chairman, with headquarters at Bombay. It has six Regional Offices at Bombay, Calcutta, Madras, Bangalore, Trivendrum and Hyderabad. These Offices are assisted in the examination of films by advisory panels which include eminent educationists, critics, journalists, social workers; psychiatrists and others.

Films Certification Appellate Tribunal

9.23 The Film Certification Appellate Tribunal constituted in March, 1984 with headquarters at New Delhi continued to hear appeals against decisions of the Central Board of Film Certification.

FILMS CERTIFIED DURING 1987

9.24 India continues to produce the largest number of feature films. In 1987, the number of Indian feature films certified was 806. The production graph of feature films in the country has shown a continuous rise since the inception of the Central Board of Film Certification. In that year a total of 219 films were certified by the Board. The number rose to 287 in 1955, 326 in 1965, 475 in 1975, 912 in 1985 and 840 in 1986. However, the number of feature films certified by the Board in 1987 fell short by 106 of the all-time record of 912 films in 1985. Tamil films dominated the 1987 scene with 167 films, followed by Telugu, with 163 films. The third place was taken by Hindi, with 150 films.

INDIAN FEATURE FILMS

9.25 Out of 806 films certified in 1987, 534 were granted ‘U’ certificates, 88 ‘UA’ certificates and 184 ‘A’ certificates.
FOREIGN FEATURE FILMS

9.26 Foreign feature films touched a new height after 1981. The Board certified a total of 199 foreign feature films in 1987. Out of them, 80 were granted 'U' certificates, 29 'UA' certificates and 90 'A' certificates.

INDIAN SHORT FILMS

9.27 The Board certified 1541 Indian short films in 1987. Out of them 1509 were given 'U' certificates, 11 'UA' certificates and 21 'A' certificates.

FOREIGN SHORT FILMS

9.28 The Board granted 598 certificates to foreign short films. Out of them, 552 were given 'U' certificates, 8 'UA' certificates, 37 'A' certificates and 1 'S' certificate.

VIDEO FILMS

9.29 The number of video films presented for certification during 1987 was appreciable, as can be seen from the following:

184 were certified: Indian Films: Feature 28, Short 33 and Foreign Films: Feature 45 and Short 78.

9.30 The Central Board of Film Certification is making a conscious effort to carry out its functions in accordance with the provisions of Cinematograph Act and Rules and the guidelines prescribed for the certification of films. In January, 1988 at the direction of the Minister of Human Resource Development, a National Conference was held in Bombay for two days, which was attended by an impressive cross-section of producers, directors, actors, distributors, theatre owners, critics and members of the Central Board, Advisory panels and the Appellate Tribunal. The Union Ministers of State, Education and Culture, Information and Broadcasting and Women and Child Development also participated, along with the senior officers of the concerned Ministries. The Conference, arranged with the cooperation of the Maharashtra Government, went into all relevant issues in great depth, the discussions and interventions were free and frank resulting in pointers for active consideration.
CHAPTER 10

schemes for training and research

Award of Scholarships to Young Workers in different Cultural Fields

10.1 The objective of the Scheme is to give financial assistance to young artistes of outstanding promise for advanced training, within India, in the fields of music, dance, drama, painting, sculpture, illustration and design and woodcraft among other such cultural activities. The duration of the 100 scholarships is two years, but in exceptional cases, it may be extended by another year. The value of the scholarships is Rs. 400 per month. The emphasis is on award of scholarships in fields which are becoming extinct.

Emeritus Fellowships to most eminent Artistes in the fields of Performing, Literary and Plastic Arts

10.2 The Scheme of Emeritus Fellowships has been formulated so that the artistes, who have achieved a high degree of excellence in their respective fields but have since retired from the profession, could be given financial support to enable them to continue experimentation in a spirit of financial freedom. The fellowships are of the value of Rs. 2,000 each per month, tenable for a period of two years and are awarded every year. The scheme came into operation from the financial year 1983-84. Presently there are 20 Fellows.

Award of Fellowships to Outstanding Artistes in the Fields of Performing, Literary and Plastic Arts

10.3 The Scheme provides for the award of 15 Senior Fellowships of the value of Rs. 1,000/- per month and 35 Junior Fellowships of the value of Rs. 500/- per month each. The awards are given every year. The main objective is to provide basic financial support to outstanding men in the fields of literary, plastic and performing arts in the age group of 25-65 years for very advanced training or individual creative efforts or for revival of traditional forms of arts. 16 Senior and 36 Junior fellowships were awarded.

Financial Assistance to Persons Distinguished in Letters, Arts and such other Walks of Life who may be in indigent circumstances

10.4 The Scheme provides for financial assistance to persons distinguished in letters and arts who may be in indigent circumstances and are about 58 years of age. In certain cases their dependents who have been left unprovided for are also considered under the scheme. Expenditure is shared by the Government of India and the respective State Governments on 2:1 basis. In exceptional cases, the entire expenditure is borne by the Government of India. At present, there are 445 beneficiaries and 64 persons were selected under the scheme in 1987-88.

Gandhi Smriti and Darshan Samiti, New Delhi

11.1 The Gandhi Smriti and Darshan Samiti is an autonomous body fully financed by government of India functioning under the administrative control of the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Department of Culture.

OBJECTIVES

i) to preserve and maintain the "Gandhi Smriti" at Tees January Marg and the pavilions and grounds at the Gandhi Darshan Complex;

ii) to plan and carry out activities for the promotion of Mahatma Gandhi's ideals and national causes identified with him, especially National Integration; and

iii) to make efforts to enlarge the activities of the Samiti for projecting Gandhiji's message to students in schools and colleges.

ACTIVITIES

11.2 As part of the celebrations of the 40th anniversary of India's freedom, special programmes were organised to celebrate the 118th Birthday of Gandhiji at Gandhi Darshan and Gandhi Smriti Complex from 2nd to 5th October, 1987. These included cultural programmes by school children, special film shows, charkha spinning, on-the-spot painting competition for school children, one-act play competition on topics relevant to Bapu's constructive programmes and National Integration, impromptu speeches in Hindi on various subjects relating to Bapu and his life, elocution competition based on 'shlokas' from the Gita and a variety programme by handicapped students sponsored by the Blind Relief Association.

11.3 On the occasion of Martyr's Day, 30th January, 1988, special programmes of prayer meetings and a photo-exhibition was organised at Smriti and Darshan Complex.

GANDHI MEMORIAL LECTURE

11.4 The Samiti instituted during the year a Gandhi Memorial lecture to be delivered annually, to promote understanding of the life, work and message of Mahatma Gandhi and to highlight his contribution to the National causes identified with him. The lecture will be delivered every year in New Delhi, preferably on a day associated with an important event in Gandhiji's life. Eminent scholars, scientists and persons in other fields of public life will be invited to deliver lectures on a subject of their choice dealing with social, economic, educational and moral aspects of Gandhiji's life and work and their relevance to the present day. The inaugural lecture was delivered on 31st January, 1988 by Prof. Raghavan Iyer, Professor Emeritus, University of California, U.S.A.

TAKING GANDHI TO SCHOOLS

11.5 The scheme "Taking Gandhi to Schools", which is for dissemination of Gandhian Ideals through children's programmes was given a further fill-up during the year. In various competitions organised till December, 1987, 15,365 school students participated.

11.6 A weekly Spinning programme is being held every Saturday at Gandhi Smriti Complex from 3.30 P.M. to 5.00 P.M. About 30 to 40 women, men and children participate in this programme. Wives and children of the employees of the Samiti living in the Smriti Complex take part.

NATIONAL SEMINAR ON GANDHI AND NATIONAL INTEGRATION

11.7 A National Seminar on "Gandhi and National Integration" organised under the auspices of the Samiti was held at Vigyan Bhavan from October 17 to 19, 1987, which was inaugurated by Shri R. Venkataraman, President of India. The Seminar was attended by a galaxy of scholars, educationists, judicial luminaries, administrators and distinguished public figures from all over India. Thirteen papers were presented at the Seminar.

EXHIBITIONS

11.8 A project for the preparation of prototype exhibition sets on various facets relating to Mahatmaji’s life and work has been taken in hand. The first set and model on the theme "Gandhi and Freedom Struggle" was put on display in an exhibition organised on the 118th birth anniversary of Gandhiji.

11.9 A special exhibition on "The Last Phase of Mahatmaji's Life" was inaugurated on 30th January, 1988.

11.10 Special photo exhibitions on various facets of Mahatmaji’s life were organised by the Mobile Exhibition unit at five different educational and other institutions.

CHILDREN'S CORNER AT GANDHI DARSHAN COMPLEX

11.11 A 'Children's Corner' is being set up in the Gandhi Darshan Complex. This will have a small gallery in which the paintings and other art objects created by children on various topics relating to Mahatma Gandhi's life and work will be displayed. The "Corner" is proposed to be developed in phases with a view to provide creative outlets to children in arts and crafts, as also an introduction to the Mahatma's constructive programmes, India's Freedom Struggle and nation-building.

STATUE OF GANDHIJI

Huen T-Sang Memorial Hall

11.13 The proposal for the merger of the Huen T-sang Memorial Hall at Nalanda constructed by the Government with the Nav Nalanda Mahavihara, Nalanda is under the consideration of the government of India in consultation with the government of Bihar.
12.1 One of the important activities undertaken by the Government of India since Independence has been the commemoration of the anniversaries of distinguished Indians, who have left an indelible impression on the history and life of our country. Independence gave the means and the opportunity for the Government to bring into focus the valuable contribution that such great men and women have made for the enrichment of the socio-political landscape of our sub-continent. Three important aims are sought to be achieved through such programmes. The first is to bring to light in detail the life and activities of such outstanding personalities and through them, inform world opinion about the ideas and ideals they stood for and their relevance to India through the ages. The second is to create and arouse in the younger generation of our own country an awareness of our heritage and to re-interpret through these programmes, the cultural and spiritual values India stands for. Finally, these programmes seek to promote international understanding through the inclusion of commemorations/celebrations of noted personalities of other countries in the world community.

12.2 National committees are set up for the centenaries/anniversaries which are considered to be of such importance. Year-long programmes are drawn up by the committees for implementation during the centenary year. These programmes normally include organisation of national seminars, installation of statues, other functions, publications and exhibitions.

12.3 The Department of Culture also provides financial assistance to Registered Voluntary Organisations for grants for celebrating the centenaries/anniversaries of outstanding personalities, which are not taken up for celebration by the Government of India.

CENTENARIES AND ANNIVERSARIES

12.4 The following important centenaries and anniversaries were taken up for celebration in 1987-88:

1. Conclusion of the 125th birth anniversary of Rabindranath Tagore.
2. Conclusion of the birth centenary of Maithili Sharan Guptas.
3. Conclusion of the 125th birth anniversary of Pt. Madan Mohan Malaviya.
5. Inauguration of the birth centenary of Dr. S.K. Sinha.
12.5 National Committees have been set up under the chairmanship of the Vice-President of India to celebrate the centenary of Dr. S. Radhakrishnan and Maulana Abul Kalam Azad. A national committee for celebrating the 1200th Birth Anniversary of Adi Shankaracharya has also been set up under the chairmanship of the Prime Minister. The Department of Culture has also initiated steps to undertake programmes for celebrating the tri-centenary of Raja Sawai Jai Singh-II, the centenary of Kulpati K.M. Munshi and the 125th death anniversary of Bahadur Shah Zafar.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO VOLUNTARY ORGANISATIONS FOR CELEBRATION OF ANNIVERSARIES AND CENTENARIES

Cultural Agreements/Cultural Exchange Programmes

13.1 Exchanges in education, arts, science, technology and information are immensely useful for fastening and strengthening the spirit of international understanding between peoples and nations. There is an increased recognition among countries about the importance of such exchanges in building a stable world community and supporting social and economic development.

13.2 The Department of Culture has been actively pursuing a policy of cultural relations with many countries in the world and this forms an essential and viable part of India's total international efforts. From a small figure of 21 Cultural Agreements until 1970, the number has increased to 78 at present, including 3 cultural agreements signed this year with Peru, Trinidad & Tobago and Seychelles.

13.3 Cultural Agreements lay down the broad principles of cooperation and are implemented through Cultural Exchange Programmes (CEPs), which specify the details of exchanges. These programmes are formulated and reviewed every 2-3 years. Efforts have been sustained to develop within the framework of Cultural Agreements regular programmes of exchanges with a number of countries. Their number is 54 at present, including 17 CEPs entered into renewed this year with Bangladesh, Bulgaria, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ethiopia, Finland, Hungary, Italy, DPRK, Korea (South), Mongolia, Maldives, Norway, USSR, Yemen (PDR), Yugoslavia and Zimbabwe.

13.4 In respect of countries with which regular programmes of cultural exchanges have not so far been evolved, bilateral cultural relations are maintained on the basis of adhoc cultural activities such as visits of performing troupes and offers of scholarships. Cultural presentations through performing delegations, exhibitions and exchange of scholars have played an important role in cultural projection and in creating a favourable environment in our overall external relations on a bilateral basis. However, our exchange programmes are now exploring new avenues and are not restricted to the standard pattern of student teacher and art exchanges programme. Many more areas of cooperation such as Sports, media, academic links between institution of higher learning in India and abroad, language study programmes, exchange of specialists, participation in conferences, professional and technical training, museology and archaeology have been included. These programmes are proving in-valuable in providing new dimensions to our international cultural relations.
13.5 In the development of cultural relations, goodwill visits at the highest level have been historically important. The Minister of External Affairs paid a goodwill visit to Trinidad & Tobago in March, 1987. A Cultural Agreement with Trinidad & Tobago was signed at Port-of-Spain during his visit. Similarly, the Peruvian Minister of External Affairs visited India for signing the Indo-Peruvian Cultural Agreement at New Delhi in January, 1987. The Cultural Agreement with Seychelles was signed at New Delhi December, 1987 during the visit of the Minister of Education, Information and Youth, Government of Seychelles. An Indian delegation led by Secretary (Culture) visited Cuba in February, 1987 to sign the Indo-Cuban Cultural Exchange Programme for the years 1987-89 at Havana. The Indo-Bulgarian Cultural Exchange Programme for 1987-1989 was signed in New Delhi in February, 1987 during the visit of Mr. Georgy Yordanov, Vice-Chairman, Committee for Culture and Education. A high level delegation consisting of Shri G. Parthasarathy, Chairman, Indo-US Joint Commission on Education and Culture and Secretary (Culture) visited USA for attending the 13th Joint Meeting of the Indo-US Sub-Commission on Education and Culture held in Austin Jexas (USA) from 15th to 17th March, 1987.

13.6 The Indo-Finnish and the Indo-Czech Cultural Exchange Programmes for the period 1987-1989 were signed in June, 1987 at Helsinki and Prague respectively during the visit of the Indian delegation led by Secretary (Culture). The Indo-USSR Cultural Exchange Programme for 1987-88 was signed at Moscow in September 1987 during the visit of Secretary (Culture) to the USSR. The Indo-Ethiopian Cultural Exchange Programme for 1988-90 was signed in New Delhi in October, 1987 during the visit of the Vice-Minister of Culture, Ethiopia to India. The Indo-Hungarian Cultural Exchange Programme for the year 1988-1990 was signed at Budapest during the visit of Secretary (Culture) to Hungary. A cultural delegation from the DPRK visited New Delhi in March, 1987 for singing the Indo-DPRK Cultural Exchange Programme for 1987-1989. The Indo-Norwegian Cultural Exchange Programme for 1987-1989 and the Indo-Italian Cultural Exchange Programme for 1987-1989 were signed at New Delhi in January and March, 1987 respectively by Secretary (Culture) on behalf of the Government of India and Mr. Knut Sverre, Director General, Press and Cultural Relations, Government of Norway and Mr. A. Romano, Minister and Plenipotentiary on behalf of the Government of Italy respectively. Joint Secretary (Culture) visited Seoul in May, 1987 for signing the Indo-Korean Cultural Exchange Programme for 1987-1989. A Mongolian delegation visited India in August, 1987 for signing the Indo-Mongolian Cultural Exchange Programme. The CEP 1988-90 was signed at Mexico in February, 1988 during the visit of a delegation headed by Secretary (Culture). A programme of Cultural Exchange between India & Syria was signed at New Delhi by the Syrian Ambassador in New Delhi on behalf of his government and Joint Secretary Department of Culture on behalf of Govt. of India in Feb., 1988 for the years ending 1989.

13.7 During his visit to Mauritius in July, 1986 Prime Minister Shri Rajiv Gandhi, had accepted a proposal, made by Shri Anerood Jugnauth, Prime Minister of Mauritius, for India's participation in the Ocean Festival. The duration of the Festival, which was subsequently called "Festival International de la mer" was from the beginning of September to 5th November, 1987. India was given the privilege of inaugurating the Festival, and participated from 4th to 13th September, 1987.

13.8 The Department of Culture was designated as the Nodal agency for coordinating the involvement of different Ministeries/Departments/Organisations. The government desired that our participation should be lively, pleasing and effective in conveying our rich cultural traditions.

13.9 The Indian participation encompassed the following events:

13.9.1 FOOD FESTIVAL: A Food Festival organised by the Indian Tourism Development Corporation was very regular, as also the Chat Bazar, in the spacious lawns of the Mahatma Gandhi Institute.

13.9.2 FASHION PAGEANT: A Fashion Pageant put up by the Trade Fair Authority of India at the Mahatma Gandhi Institute Auditorium was very well-received. All the shows drew full houses.

13.9.3 CRAFTS EXHIBITION: A Crafts Exhibition named the 'Golden Hands' was organized by the Central Cottage Industries Corporation at the Mahatma Gandhi Institute. The master craftsmen who were displaying their skills on the spot proved to be a big draw. The foods on display were a total sell-out.

13.9.4 FILM FESTIVAL: The film festival proved immensely popular with Tamil, Telugu, Marathi, Hindi and Bhojpuri films being shown in 20 theatres all over the country. Children's films were also shown. Film personalities of India were also present.

13.9.5 MARITIME EXHIBITION (NAVIK): A Maritime Exhibition (Navik) was organized by the Prince of Wales Museum, Bombay, at the Mauritius Institute of Library and Sciences. This was also a big attraction with about 7,000 coming daily to see the unique exhibits.

13.9.6 "SAGAR KANYA": The Ocean Research Vessel ‘Sagarkanya’ of the Department of Ocean Development which visited Mauritius during the Festival proved to be a special attraction. Unprecedented crowds numbering 10-12, thousands visited the Exhibition on board each day.

13.9.7 ‘INS VINDHYAGIRI’: The Defence Ministry had despatched INS ‘Vindhyagiri’ to Mauritius. Large numbers of Mauritians visited the ship every day and enjoyed the band display. The band display was also held at several locations in the Island and proved to be an unfailing crowd puller. A ‘Day at Sea’ Programme was organized on the ship in September, 1987.

13.9.8 PERFORMING ARTS: The Indian Council for Cultural Relations coordinated the presentation of all Indian Classical and folk items at the Festival. The classical performances enthralled the audiences. These were presented every day after the Fashion Show. The Folk group comprised a number of contingents from different States of India. These folk groups gave performances at different venues all over the Island. Their presentations appealed to the hearts of the Mauritian people of all strata.

13.10 In the space of about a week, India had sailed into the hearts of every Mauritian. Never before had they been exposed to such a diverse range of Indian Culture. They were first surprised, then intrigued and finally captivated by each facet of the Indian presentation. Both to the young and old alike it was a breathtaking voyage to India, to its culture, to its achievements in science and technology, to its power in the ocean, as well as a momentary return to their own roots. The Indian and Mauritian people, linked by a common heritage, undoubtedly came closer together as a result of the Indian participation. The official Indian Delegation was headed by the Minister of Human Resource Development and consisted of 2 MPs, 2 MLAs from Maharashtra and Bihar, a State Minister of Bihar and the Secretary (Culture).

SOUTH ASIAN ASSOCIATION FOR REGIONAL COOPERATION TECHNICAL COMMITTEE ON SPORTS, ARTS AND CULTURE

13.11 The Fourth and Fifth meetings of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation Technical Committee on Sports, Arts and Culture were held respectively at Male and Kathmandu in March and September, 1987 respectively.

PRESENTATION OF BOOKS, ART OBJECTS AND ESSAY COMPETITIONS

13.12 Books, art objects and essay competitions being important items for the promotion and better understanding of life and Culture of India, the Department of Culture continued to provide funds to the Indian Council for Cultural Relations for presentation of books and art objects to foreign governments, organisations, libraries and individuals and for organising essay competitions abroad through the Indian missions.

13.13 The Indo-Foreign Friendship Societies provide useful avenues for the promotion of Indian culture abroad. These societies organise cultural activities such as lectures, festivals, exhibitions and performances of Indian artistes. Some of these societies also maintain small libraries and reading rooms. The Department of Culture has been extending financial assistance to these societies on the recommendation of the concerned Indian Missions abroad. The programme was continued during the year. Besides assistance to these societies, grants were given to a few selected Indian Missions for the encouragement of cultural activities among the local population of Indian origin.
MAISON DE L'INDE

13.14 The Government of India had constructed an Indian student's hostel in the campus of the Cité Université Paris and donated it to the University in 1960. The hostel known as 'Maison de l'Inde' has accommodation for about 104 students. Its management has, however, been retained by India. The Government of India meets the deficit in the running of the hostel each year. In 1987-88, the government remitted Rs. 3.82 lakhs towards meeting the deficit.
14.1 The Festival of India in the USSR and the Festival of USSR in India are being held under a Protocol signed in the presence of Shri Rajiv Gandhi, Prime Minister of India and Mr. Mikhail Gorbachev, General Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Soviet Union, during the latter’s visit to India in November, 1986, by Shri P.V. Narasimha Rao, Minister of Human Resource Development and Mr. E.A. Shevardnadze, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the USSR.

14.2 The Festival of India in the USSR was inaugurated by the Prime Minister of India and the General Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Soviet Union on 3rd July, 1987 in Moscow. Later, ceremonial events were also held at Leningrad and Tashkent. The Festival of India in the USSR is dedicated to the 40th Anniversary of our Independence, and will continue for a period of one year. During this period, the people of the Soviet Union will witness various manifestations of India’s cultural heritage, as well as its commitment to economic development. A series of concerts, exhibitions, panorama of films, youth and sports teams, visits and a number of seminars and symposia have generated a "people to people" contact, strengthening further the bonds of friendship that exist between the two countries. The opening of the first ever Indo-Soviet joint venture in July, 1987 of the “DELHI” restaurant in Moscow, was a significant event of the Festival.

14.3 A total expenditure of Rs. 1630 lakhs is likely to be incurred on the Festival of India in the USSR. The year-wise phasing of the expenditure will be as under:

14.4 The reciprocal Festival of the USSR in India was inaugurated on 21st November, 1987 by the Prime Minister of the USSR and the Prime Minister of India, in New Delhi. Ceremonial events of the Festival were similarly held subsequently at Bombay, Bangalore and Calcutta also. The Festival of the USSR in India is dedicated to 70th Anniversary of the great October Revolution, and will continue for a period of one year. Under the Festival of the USSR too, as in the case of our Festival in the USSR, besides performing arts; exhibitions, seminars, conferences, festival of Soviet films and the like, youth and sports programmes are being held in different parts of the country. They have all been received with great acclamation.
14.5 A total expenditure of Rs. 2504.86 lakhs is likely to be incurred on the Festival of the USSR in India. The year-wise phasing of the overall estimated expenditure on the Festival of USSR is as follows:

14.6 As already stated, one of the significant events of our Festival in USSR was the opening of the first joint venture project, the "Delhi Restaurant" which could well be the harbinger of many more such and other joint ventures. The Handicrafts and Handlooms Exports Corporation of India Limited were also able to secure orders for Rs. 3.5 crores worth of handicraft items for sale as souvenirs in USSR. Earnings from the sale of books/catalogues brought out specially for the Festival of India in USSR are estimated at Rs. 80 lakhs. Sizeable revenues are also expected from the sale of tickets for various events of the USSR Festival in India such as the Inaugural and ceremonial events and the performing arts presentations.

14.7 PERFORMING ARTS IN THE FESTIVAL OF INDIA IN USSR: A sizeable contingent of classical and folk performing artistes have been/are being sent to USSR. 14.22 All the Festivals both here and abroad have elicited enthusiastic and unprecedented response from the peoples of the respective countries. An immense curiosity about each other’s culture has been generated and to a large extent, the Festivals have served to assuage and satisfy the same. In terms of enduring gains and the strengthening of the bonds of friendship between our country and USSR, Japan, Sweden and Mauritius, the Festivals have been an unqualified success.

other activities

Progressive Use of Hindi

15.1 The Department of Culture was notified under Section 10(4) of the Official Language Rules, 1976, in 1980 on the basis that 80% of the staff in the Department have a working knowledge of Hindi. The Annual Programme for the progressive use of Hindi has been received from the Department of Official Language and brought to the notice of all concerned. Its implementation is evaluated through the meetings of the Official Language Implementation Committee of the Department.

15.2 During the year 1987-88, six offices of this Department, situated at Lucknow, Patna, Varanasi and Bhopal have been inspected by the officers of the Department to evaluate the progressive use of Hindi. The Department itself was inspected on 11.2.88 by the First Sub-Committee of the Committee of Parliament on Official Language. Their suggestions regarding further improvement in the use of Hindi have been noted and attempts will be made to implement them.

15.3 A proposal is being moved for the setting up of a separate Official Language Unit as well as for constituting a Hindi Advisory Committee for the Department of Culture.

Meetings of Consultative Committee

15.4 The Consultative Committee of Parliament for the Ministry of Human Resource Development met six times from April 87 till Feb’ 1988, where officers of the Department of Culture also participated.
